

Business Intelligence Officer

The Tampa Bay Partnership, the regional economic development organization for the seven county Tampa Bay region is seeking a Business Intelligence Officer.

The Business Intelligence Officer provides the organization and its investors with insightful interpretation of pertinent information applied to the programs of economic development marketing, public policy, and leadership.

The Business Intelligence Officer is the key manager of the Partnership's priority of becoming the center of intelligence for regional economic development. The Business Intelligence Officer is responsible for the maintenance of research documentation, research product deliverables and execution of the work program elements to support the initiatives of the Partnership.

For a complete job description, visit <http://tinyurl.com/tbpbio>

Please send qualified resumes to Info@tampabay.org

Apply by March 5, 2010. The position will be filled by April 30, 2010.

Salary negotiable and commensurate with experience.